FINANCIAL COUNSELLING SERVICES IN WESTERN AUSTRALIA

Financial Counsellors can provide information and support to families and individuals who are experiencing financial problems. They can give information about rules and laws relating to payment and recovery of debts and bills; negotiate with creditors; ensure that people are receiving government assistance to which they are entitled; help with some consumer problems; assist with budgeting; provide information on bankruptcy and refer people to other organisations which may help.

Most financial counselling services are situated within a community or church organisation or a local government authority. They are not linked with money lenders. These services are supported by government funding and provide a free service.

To find out where your closest Financial Counsellor is located, you can consult this list or call FCRP on 9221 9411.

ABOUT THIS LIST:

Financial Counsellors are listed in alphabetical order by suburb/town with Perth and metropolitan services first, followed by those in country areas. This is followed by the names of Rural Financial Counsellors who can assist farmers with their debt problems.

Please note: A new service specifically aimed at youth up to the age of 25 has commenced late 2003. This is listed under Perth and has a 1800 number for country callers.

Office hours relate to the times Financial Counsellors are available to see clients. Please note that some financial counselling services close on certain days or times to do follow up work and other casework and community education related activities.

The majority of services are by appointment only. It is therefore a good idea to call and make an appointment before visiting a financial counselling service.

Department for Community Development - Family and Children's Services offices are listed in alphabetical order by suburb/town with Perth and metropolitan services first, followed by those in country areas.
